Board to Receive Bids Tonight on Sewage System

Regular Meeting Postponed From Tuesday Owing To Convention

Members of the village board of trustees attending the state convention of the Illinois Municipal League at Springfield, returned home last evening and will meet tonight for the opening of bids on the sewage disposal system.

The cost of the improvement is estimated at $18,000, but with increased costs along all lines the trustees will not be surprised to find that the figures will be higher than that.

Should the contract be let, the expense will be borne by revenue bonds.

The board at Springfield this week heard the league go on record as opposed to the 10 percent increase in long distance telephone rates.

President George B. Bartlett said the convention at Springfield was the largest in the history of the league. He and members of the board attended the general sessions which were given over to a variety of subjects such as zoning, sewage disposal, and revenues.

While Gov. Green balked a special tax session, it appeared certain when the local delegation left that there would be some kind of concerted effort at the next meeting of the legislature to have the state share its vast revenues with the cities and villages.

Mayor Wallin of Waukegan suggested that the league ask the state to share its income from inheritance taxes with cities. This revenue would be sought along with a share of the sales tax.

Antioch F.F.A. Team Nation's Champions

The Antioch Poultry judging team which won the Illinois championship last July and represented the state at the National contest held in connection with the Dairy Cattle Congress at Waterloo, Iowa, last week; won the Gold Emblem Award in competition with twenty-one other states of the union.

The contest held on October 1st at The Swift plant in Waterloo, was won by the Antioch team which consisted of the following Future Farmer members:

Kennedy Heuer, Gordon Gebhardt, and Warren Wells.

A telegram received by Mr. C. L. Kutil, who coached the team, also stated that one of the three boys was a gold emblem individual winner, failed to mention the name of the boy. Further details are being awaited as to the exact figures of the contest.

The Antioch team traveled to Waterloo by car, accompanied by their instructor C. L. Kutil.

While in Waterloo, they attended the Dairy Cattle Congress; and were guests at a banquet given by John Deere and Co.

On the return trip, a short stop was made at the Apple River Canyon State Park in Northwestern Illinois.

Antioch Hills Wants to Be Annexed to Village And Get Water Service

President George B. Bartlett said yesterday that he had received a letter from Mr. Kaser, engineer of Elgin, often employed by the village, telling him that the Antioch Hills subdivision is seeking water from the village and has in mind annexation. Bartlett will bring the matter to the attention of the village board this evening.

The subdivision is west of Rte. 21 near Antioch lake on the southwest edge of the village and was formerly the VanPatten farm. The subdivision would lay its own water lines and hook on to the village water mains.

Palatine Saturday and Then Homecoming Game For Antioch Sequoits

Benzenville Won Here 43 to 0 And Shows Up as Best In Conference

Trying to forget the drubbing Benzenville gave them here last week, the Antioch High school football team will go to Palatine Saturday afternoon to try to break into the conference "games won" column.

With only one absentee from the lineup and that one a matter of eligibility, the Sequoits will present a much stronger lineup than they did last week.

Coach Kruzan expected a defeat Friday at the hands of Benzenville for he considers that team the best in the conference, but he did not expect the 43 to 0 score. The changed lineup just didn't click as he expected it to.

The score at the half was 18 to 0 and at the third quarter 24 to 0. With Benzenville out of the way, the Sequoits are showing better spirit for their game with Palatine Saturday. Palatine beat Northbrook last week 13 to 7 and won't be easy to beat.

Coach Kruzan is really pointing for the Homecoming game here with Northbrook the following week. He wants to keep the school's record intact, that of not having lost a Homecoming game since he came to Antioch.

Big plans are being made for the Homecoming. On Thursday afternoon there will be a bonfire and snake dance. On Friday afternoon there will be a parade and after the night's game there will be a dance at the school building. The dates are Oct. 16 and 17.

A.T.H.S. Parents Club Hears Speaker, Enjoys Social Hour Wednesday

The parents social organization of the Antioch Township High school had its first meeting of the year last evening and an interesting program.

Mrs. E. J. McDougall of Channel Lake, was in charge as chairman, and Mrs. Coulombe of Millburn had charge of refreshments and the social hour.

The program opened with group singing led by Hans Von Holwede followed by numbers by the school orchestra.

Teachers of the school were introduced by Principal T. R. Birkhead.

Miss Cornelia Roberts, a teacher last year in the Istanbul, Turkey schools, and now teaching at Grayslake was the principal speaker of the evening, giving her experiences as a teacher in Turkey. She plans to return to Turkey after the present semester at Grayslake to resume her teaching.

After the program in the auditorium the crowd went to the cafeteria for refreshments and a social hour.

Housing Shortage Everywhere
Melvin Johnson built a bird house for some flickers this summer but before any moved in the starlings took possession. They left the place after a little persuasion on Mr. Johnson's part and the flickers moved in. When the flickers left, a swarm of bees moved in, again showing that there is a housing shortage.

The Sophomores of the Antioch Township High school will give a welcome party Friday night at the school building honoring the freshmen.

Swanson Remodels Theatre
Fred B. Swanson is having the interior of his Antioch theatre remodelled. When completed an additional 100 persons can be seated in the balcony.

Halloween Mummies to Get Prizes, Treats from Theatre and Newspaper

Children Will Parade to Theatre and See Show Without Cost

Halloween plans for the children of the Antioch area were nearer completion this week through an arrangement between the Antioch News and the Antioch theatre for prizes for the best costumes in each school grade.

Fred B. Swanson, owner of the theatre and Howard Gaston, editor of the News want it made plain that the event is for children outside of Antioch as well as those in the village.

Three prizes will be given to each grade, the theatre providing prizes for the upper four grades, and the newspaper for the lower grades, kindergarten, and pre-school children. It is estimated that nearly 400 children will take part.

Assemble at School

The children will assemble at the Antioch grade school Halloween night and go in groups by grades in a parade through the business section of the village to the theatre where they will be judged and the prizes awarded. They will then be privileged to see an interesting Halloween motion picture.

The newspaper and theatre plan to give a treat to every child in the parade.

The awarding of prizes and the parade will under the supervision of Richard Whitacre, principal of the grade school.

Other Entertainment Planned
Efforts are being made to provide entertainment for the older persons.

"We don't mind innocent fun," said one business man, "but we don't want a repetition of last year's cutting of tires and other malicious damage."

A number of merchants have signified their intentions of awarding prizes for the best work in soap drawings on their windows. Young people will be allocated space on application and their drawings will be judged.

This method applied by one merchant over several years is found to be an improvement over the mere soaping of the window.

Gus Davids, Father of Mrs. Edna Pagels, Dies

Gustav Davids, aged 74, father of Mrs. Edna Pagels of Grass Lake, died Friday evening, Oct. 3, at the Libertyville hospital and the funeral service was held Monday afternoon at the Mee and Hamme funeral home in northwest Chicago.

Mr. Davids had made his home with the Pagels family the last 12 years. They moved to Grass Lake from Chicago three years ago.

Squad to Get New Uniforms

Members of the Antioch Rescue squad will be measured for new uniforms at their next meeting, Oct. 20. Everett Oftedal has been taken into the organization as a new member on probation, increasing the squad number to 13.

Criminal Neglect

Rescue Squad Called Three Times in Week

The Antioch Rescue squad received three calls during the past week.

Its services were not needed Monday evening when it was called to Channel Lake. A truck driver in trying to avoid striking Mrs. Charles Smith and one-month old baby who were afoot turning in at the Howard Smith place, ran off the highway. No one was hurt.

At 3:30 p. m. Saturday the squad went to the Skokie highway on Rte. 173 and brought a motorist to an Antioch doctor for care. The man suffered an ulcer colic and had to stop his trip to Milwaukee. After medical care he continued the trip.

On Tuesday they went to Millburn and took a mother who lost her baby to a hospital in Waukegan.

Saturday, Oct. 18 Set as Day of Examination for Postoffice Clerk

The examination date for those who seek jobs of clerk in the Antioch postoffice has been set for Saturday, Oct. 18. Roy Kufak, postmaster announced today.

It is estimated that 15 candidates will take the civil service examination which will be given at 1 p. m. in the Antioch grade school.

There is still time for applications. They must be sent to Chicago and notice of acceptance returned in time, and it is estimated that allowing for time, Tuesday will be the last day on which applications may be received.

The list of successful candidates will stand as a source for future appointments.

Retail Trade in County Twice as Great in 1947 as in 1941 in Dollars

Retail trade in Lake county in the first half of 1947 was 110.4 per cent greater in dollar volume than in the corresponding prewar period of January-July, 1941, according to estimates just prepared by the Bureau of Economic and Business Research at the University of Illinois.

Sales in the first six months of this year totaled $58,824,411 in Lake county, exceeding even those of a year ago by 27.3 per cent.

However, because a substantial part of the increase in dollar volume is the result of price increases, the true change of sales between the first halves of 1941 and 1947—adjusted for the price increases—shows a gain of only 38.4 per cent, the bureau explains, and the change from last year was actually a gain of 7.4 per cent.

The 101 downstate counties together showed a dollar volume of retail trade 113.5 per cent higher in the first half of 1947 than in the same period of 1941, and an increase over last year of 27.2 per cent. Adjusted for price increases, the figures show a gain of 40.5 per cent between 1941 and 1947, and of 7.3 per cent between 1946 and 1947.

In Cook county, having the business of the City of Chicago, retail trade in the first six months of this year was 111.8 per cent higher in dollar volume, and 39.3 per cent greater in adjusted figures than in the corresponding prewar period of 1941, and 23.2 per cent greater in dollars and 3.9 per cent in adjusted figures the first half of this year as compared with the corresponding period a year ago.

Sheriff Clamps Down on Gambling For Lake County

Atkinson Orders Deputies to Enforce Laws to Full Extent

Sheriff Walter Atkinson today issued orders to deputies to put an instant stop to all forms of gambling and rackets within Lake county. The stop order came as no surprise to informed residents of the county, as a constant pressure has been placed upon Atkinson by a Chicago daily paper during the past few weeks, and a general cleanup order was expected sometime during this month.

The sheriff is quoted by persons who contacted him today as having said that his office would place a ban on all forms of gambling in the rural areas outside of cities and municipalities and that enforcement of the laws inside the villages and towns would be up to local authorities. He added, however, that if the proper officials of the towns did not "go along" with the general order, and put a stop to gambling that his office would see to it that gambling in these places was stopped.

In this connection, it is reported that Mayor Wallin of Waukegan has promised his support in the drive to end gambling, if "the sheriff would inform him as to where the gambling is taking place."

Mayor Geo. B. Bartlett of Antioch said today that no action would be taken within the village until the situation was clarified. He added that no complaints of gambling had been received by village officials.

It is believed that most of the gambling devices which have been a familiar sight at resorts and other business places throughout the lake region in the past have been removed, and full compliance with the sheriff's edict is expected here.

Favorable Farm Prices Seen for Coming Year By Livestock Specialist

Although farm prices may be at or near their peak, the outlook for the next 12 months continues to be favorable. In general, however, livestock feeding operations are expected to return lower profits than in the past season, as both feed costs and prices of replacement cattle and lambs will be higher. The major uncertainties in the immediate outlook concern the size and quality of the corn crop and the trend in exports of both farm and non-farm products.

This was the opinion expressed by Tom Hieronymis, Ext. Mkt. Specialist of the University of Ill. College of Agri., before 40 Lake County farmers at the regular fall livestock outlook meeting October 3. Mr. Stanley Rouse, chairman, Lake County Mark. Committee, acted as chairman of the meeting which was held in the farm bureau in Grayslake.

In July this year Ill. farm prices were the highest on record, 19% higher than a year ago, and more than three times their 1910-14 average. U. S. farm prices in August did not average as high as in March this year but were 11% higher than in July 1946 and two and three-fourths times their 1910-14 average. Prices of farm products may not remain at present high levels for the entire 1947-48 feeding season, but there is little evidence of severe price break.

Election Tuesday Will Decide Bond Issue of $20,000

Antioch Voters Asked to Favor Borrowing for Fire Station

Antioch voters are asked to go to the polls Tuesday, Oct. 14, to decide whether or not the village will issue $20,000 in bonds to bear the expense of a new fire station.

The notice of the election proposes the issuance of 20 bonds of $1,000 each bearing two and three-quarters per cent interest starting Oct. 1.

The building, according to members of the village board, is made necessary by the purchase of a new chassis for a new fire truck for which bids are being received on a body. The present fire station is not large enough to hold the new truck.

Increased costs have made necessary the borrowing of money whereas original plans called for the use of money in the treasury of the fire department and the village treasury. The firemen will need their money to equip their building.

President George Bartlett admits that now is not the most favorable time to build because the costs have almost doubled, but says there is no alternative.

The problem even with the approval of the bond issue will be to find some contractor to do the work.

Women's Major League Sets New High Record In Series and Single

Golden Glo Leads in League Of Business Men and Nelson's Surprise

Although both teams rolled a new high series of 2189 Antioch Recreation won two of the three games from Bussies tavern the past week in the Women's Major Bowling league.

Coot Hunting Season in Progress 2 Weeks, Better With Change of Weather

Colder weather and the fact that Wisconsin began shooting on Tuesday meant better Coot shooting this week in the Chain O' Lakes area, resort keepers said.

Already in progress two weeks, the hunting season had but a fair start. The old timers with good blinds were getting their limits but the less experienced were not so fortunate. The warm weather during the fore part of this week wasn't too conducive.

The usual large number of hunters were on the lakes, however, and it was estimated that about 2,000 persons were out after the featured prizes.

Not Enough Jails

In a recent editorial, Chain Store Age said: "The threat of the Attorney-General to jail those who are responsible for the current high cost of living is not apt to accomplish very much. . . . The fact is that if we were to put in jail everybody who is responsible for high prices, very few of us would remain at large, for most of us, to a greater or lesser degree, must share the blame."

It may be a logical human reaction to attack business for jacking up prices, but it certainly isn't sensible. No business wants to price its consumers out of the market. All major business depends not only for its profit but its very existence on mass consumption. That goes for the manufacturer, the supplier of raw materials the middleman, the retailer and everyone else involved in the job of getting goods to the ultimate consumer. If violations of the antitrust laws are found, it is the obvious duty of government to act. But it is a safe bet that deliberate violations are few and of minor importance so far as prices of commodities are concerned. No one, in these times, can seriously interfere with the normal processes of competition and the operation of a supply-and-demand market. The price problem is infinitely complex, and it cannot be solved by the simple device of actions at law.

What To Do About Medical Care

One of the most sensible discussions that yet appeared on the question of medical care in the United States, is contained in a recent editorial in Life magazine. It does a pretty conclusive job of demolishing the arguments of the state medicine enthusiasts who would like to see something like Britain's Beveridge plan adopted in this country. It points out that complete, state-supervised medical care would cost anywhere from $8,000,000,000 to $14,000,000,000 a year. It cites a thoroughgoing report based on a four-year study, compiled by the New York Academy of Medicine, which "demonstrates with considerable convincingness that the U. S. is, from the point of view of medical facilities, a very heterogeneous country. . . . It doesn't make sense to treat the problem nationally."

The editorial sums up its discussion, together with the findings of the fifty physicians and laymen of the New York Academy of Medicine, in these words: "The Academy does not, however, propose that any of us merely sit around and wait for something better to happen. Boiled down, here are its recommendations for immediate action:

"For Urban Dwellers: Join the Blue Cross for prepaid hospitalization (more than 28 million or 20% of our population already have) if you can afford it. If you can't, Federal grants-in-aid should be given to help you. Sign on with a group-practice panel of doctors at prepaid rates for preventive as well as therapeutic care. If you can't afford it, demand Federal grants-in-aid so you can.

"For Urban Doctors: Lower your overhead and give more service by joining in voluntary group practice.

"For Rural Dwellers: Use your cooperatives. If you haven't got a hospital or health center in the community, rent a house and communally hire a doctor; one from the Army may be willing to settle in the sparsely medicated country. It's done in New England—

"For Rural Physicians: If you are one, stay where you are. If you're not one, think of the need rural areas have for you. You might also shoot a grouse or catch a bass if you ever have any spare time. And in tough spots you too should be given a grant-in-aid.

"None of this requires elaborate legislation other than appropriations."

Productive Agriculture

One reason for the economic strength of the United States is the efficiency of the American farmer. The high production of American agriculture means that a steadily increasing proportion of the population has been able to devote its thought and energies to other pursuits.

Scientific, mechanized farming has made far greater strides here than in any other major country. American farmers represent only 2½ per cent of all the farmers of the world—yet they produce about 20 per cent of the world's food supply. There are various reasons for that achievement, and agricultural machinery is one of the most important. Tasks that, abroad, are slowly and laboriously done by hand are swiftly and economically accomplished by machinery here.

This illustrates, in turn, the close relationship between agriculture and industry. America produces 50 per cent of the world's steel—and it is steel which has made possible the mechanization of agriculture. The first steel plow was produced 110 years ago, and ever since progress in steel and in farm production have gone hand in hand.

The end result is a higher standard of living for all Americans—a more prosperous agriculture—an industrial wage scale unequalled anywhere else—a stronger, richer nation.

The woman who owns a GAS range saves MINUTES

Oversleep a few minutes? Your modern gas range makes up the lost time. The instant heat burners of the gas range get the coffee-making process going instantly. No waiting . . . no watching! You cook faster with gas.

And, speedy heating is only one reason why modern housewives are so devoted to their new gas ranges. Flame-cooking is accurate cooking. You get exactly the shade of heat you want. You serve meals to suit the tastes of your individual family. Foods that demand slow-and-even cooking turn out as perfectly as those that demand heat-in-a-hurry.

No matter what you're cooking . . . roasts, cakes, ham 'n eggs or slow-simmering soups . . . the modern gas range gives you and your family cooking that can't be beat.

War-born delays in the expansion of the natural gas pipeline make it necessary to temporarily restrict new space heating and industrial uses—to protect the supply to homes and essential needs.

Dampness Aids Mold
Mildew, the live, growing fungus that feeds on articles to which it attaches itself, can eventually completely destroy the usefulness of household linens and wearing apparel if given the chance. Damp clothing and linens should not be placed in a clothes hamper or laundry bag. Mold spores, always in the air, germinate when dampness is present.

Automatic Selling Grows
Vending machines are winning more consumer acceptance and in many lines, they actively compete with retailing. The industry is now considered a 500 million dollar business. New models can sell canned, frozen and dehydrated foods, hoisery, books, toilet articles, shirts, neckties, ice cream, hot dogs and complete meals. Greater ease of coin changing has also stimulated automatic merchandising.

They Own Their Homes
There are now 21,744,823 owner occupied homes in the United States, according to the National Association of Real Estate boards. The owners paid a total of $68,821,079 for the houses.

First Colonial Patent
The first American patent is more than 300 years old. On March 6, 1646, a colonial ironworker, Joseph Jenkes, petitioned the General Court of Massachusetts to recognize the originality of his water-power sawmill, an engine "for mills to go by water." The patent was granted.
